We support an open Internet.

Open to users. Open to investment. Open to innovation.

The Internet is working — spurring investment, creating jobs, and opening doors to new opportunities.

To continue this success we are committed to a set of standards that will protect users, reward innovators, and help achieve the FCC's goal of connecting everyone in America by 2020.

Freedom.

and ev

train

N

The open exchange of ideas, content, and information across the Internet.

Innovation.

A robust and secure network that enables new services, applications, and devices.

Competition.

Consumers have the power to choose the best possible services and innovations.

Transparency.

Clear and concise information about speed, cost, and traffic management practices.

With over a quarter million employees and another 600,000 people who supply and support our company, we are committed to keeping the Internet open and growing.

Working together, we can ensure that the Internet will continue to be a platform for economic growth, job creation, and American ingenuity.

"moderate to intense" physical activity five days a week for six weeks. The project is being spear-

> Obama and Secretary of Health and Human Services Kathleen Sebelius, along with Dominique Davies, Olympic gold medal gymnast and coCAR champ Carl Edwards are scheduled to be in town to promote the Million PALA Challenge, a new presidential fitness program.

The challenge aims to get 1 million of more Americans competing for the Presidential Active Libestyle Award, given thletes oning

y, staffers: Olym-Ra players are on D.C. today, silver medalist wan, Phoenis Su printing, "GPO employee newbie coinic writer Jim Cameron says. "Squeaks" was produced entirely in-house, needed to qualify for the fitness printing but taits asteep playing a video game without getting his work done. Enter video game character Squeaks, a orinfing the Congressional Record recently released its first counc. book, "Squeaks Discover Type!" Colorfully illus-